ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

There is a critical association between the well-being of a society and the quality of the environment in which a society exists. In today's global society, many environmental issues can diminish the quality of life on Earth, including overproduction of waste, the destruction of natural habitats and the pollution of air, water and other resources. India's economic development accompanied with rapid urbanisation and unprecedented population growth add pressure to this environment, resulting in adverse and harmful environmental conditions. So, a reasonable balance needs to be established between developmental activities and conservation of the environment. Environmental conservation will go side by side with developmental projects and establishment of industries.

With this background, the IQAC of the college, proposes to hold a Two-day National Conference on the theme “Society, Environment and Sustainable Development” under the “Utkrith Mahavidyala Yojana” scheme of Govt. of Himachal Pradesh. The aim of the conference is to address the emerging issues and challenges related to environment and sustainable development in the era of fast changing society and to come out with concrete action plans.
